

From: gerald durkan
To: Nancy Rumrill/R9/USEPA/US|||EPA
Date: 05/22/2009 05:42 PM
Subject: Lahaina

Aloha Nancy,

I am familiar with the injection wells on Maui and I am concerned where the water actually goes. There have been documented algae blooms at each of the sites and it appears due to the nitrogen and whatever in the waste water. Have tracers been used to see where the injected water is going? It has to be going somewhere and the seashore would be the logical place.

I also wonder about residual medications in the water as I am aware of studies done in Boulder showing significant downstream levels of estrogens, etc. Are there plans to study this also?

Thanks,

G Durkan MD